

General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) - 25th May 2018

As a customer of Redlay Flooring, you will have provided certain personal information which fall under the new GDPR Legislation. The new law replaces the DATA Protection Act 1998.

Here at Redlay Flooring, we take your privacy seriously and will only use your personal information to administer your account, and to provide the products and services you have requested from us.

Your personal information is stored securely, both electronically and through paper filing systems.

We do not share your data with third parties and it is only used for legitimate business purposes.

As a customer you may have provided us with your payment details. These are not kept and are destroyed immediately as per the World Pay PCI DSS directive of which we are compliant.

Redlay Flooring will not share your details with third parties. They are required for the sole use of our business.

Should you wish for your data to be deleted/destroyed, please contact us in writing either by email to info@chippingnortonflooring.com or by letter to our trading address above and we will delete all data accordingly.